Minden hospital

In-patient ward remains closed

For the moment at least, services at the Minden Hospital will remain unchanged, following the regular meeting of the St. Joseph's Hospital Board last Tuesday evening. The board examined a number of options for the hospital's future, however decided to give a little more time for a solution to be found to the current crisis. A delegation of seven Minden area residents was on hand to observe the meeting.

The decision was in line with a recommendation from the Community Advisory Committee (CAC) for the two hospitals.

That means the in-patient beds will remain closed and the hospital's emergency service will continue to operate with reduced hours during week days. Emergency services are still available 24 hours a day on weekends.

The CAC meets again Wednesday to reconsider the options available for the future of the facility. It is hoped that by then a solution can be found to the current crisis in medical services in Minden.

One ray of hope to enter the scene this past week was the announcement that Dr. Bennett Wu would be re-opening his medical practice in a new location. Dr. Wu, a former associate of Dr. Holliday-Rhodes who left the community abruptly April 10, is in the process of establishing a temporary clinic at 31 Allister Street, the former Lorne and Grace Coburn residence, adjacent to Hyland Crest. The clinic will open Wednesday May 10.

"This is strictly a temporary measure until we can find permanent quarters," Dr. Wu stated. I wanted to open as quickly as possible to provide service to the patients who had relied on the Rhodes Medical Clinic." The medical records that were part of the Rhodes Clinic will be accompanying Dr. Wu to the new location. Patients wishing to book an appointment to see the doctor can do so by calling

Three records broken

Three new records have been set by Haliburton Highlands Secondary School students at the Kawartha Qualifying Track and Field meet. The meet was held Thursday at HHSS.

Amber-Lee Cully set a record for midget girls' shot put at 8.88 metres. Mike Bradley established a record of 11.5 seconds in the junior boys' 100 metre event. Bradley also set a 200 metre record of 12.4 seconds.

British fishermen say "Thank you Canada"

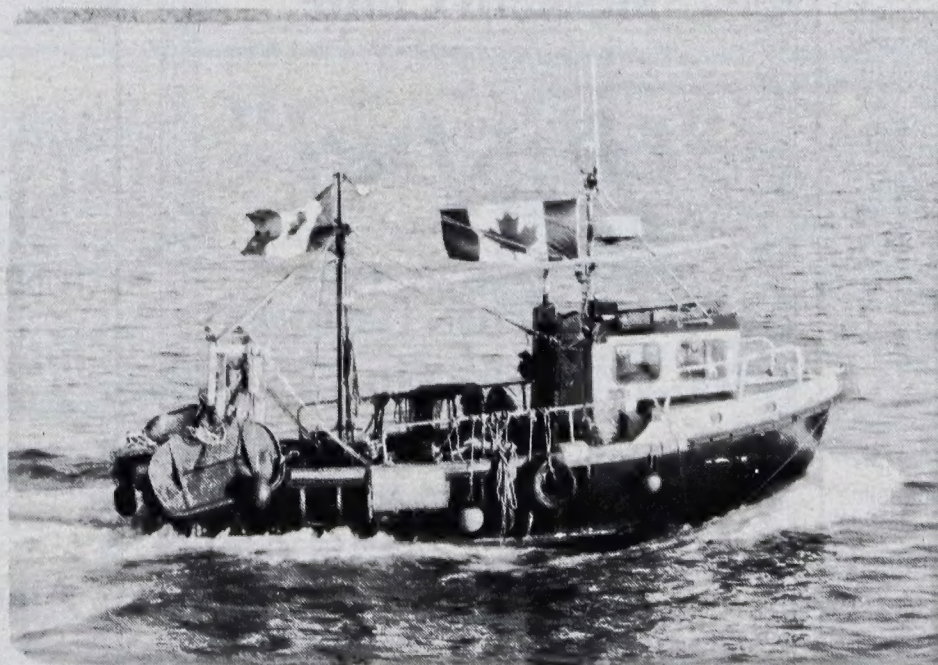

"The generosity of the Canadian people has been fantastic."

Those are the words English fisherman Mick Mahon used to describe the response to the call for Canadian flags for English fishing vessels.

The collection of flags for the fishermen started in Canada after an article appeared in the daily press describing the difficulty the fishermen of the Cornwall region of England were having getting Canadian flags.

The fishermen began flying Canadian flags on their boats as a show of support for the tough stand the government had taken regarding over-fishing just outside the Canadian territorial limits on the east coast Grand Banks.

With the fishermen unable to get their hands on enough flags to meet the demand, newspapers across the county, including The Times, asked readers to donate flags to be sent to the fishermen. They received hundreds in response, including 20 flags through The Times. "Britain is now surrounded by a ring of Maple Leaves," Mahon said commenting on the flags he has received.

Mick Mahon's fishing boat Jacqueline-Anne, proudly flies two Canadian flags as it heads out to sea from Newlyn hardbour.

As a spokesman for the fishermen, Mahon has been forwarding flags to ports throughout the British Isles. With his letter he included a photograph of his fishing boat Jacqueline-Anne with two Canadian flags snapping proudly from the masts.

The letter from Mick Mahon follows:

Dear Editor:

What a success it has been, far in excess of what I thought it would be!

The generosity of the Canadian people has been fantastic. Britain is now surrounded by a ring of Maple Leaves and they are now spreading inland. British flag makers are in full production and can't cope with the demand.

The largest port in Britain,

Peterhead, will not allow entry of any vessel unless they fly the Maple Leaf. I only hope that some of the people who sent flags can visit Britain to see the flags before the ravages of time and weather take their toll on the marvellous sight of the Maple Leaves flying on so many mastheads. Canadian visitors to Cornwall have already commented on the fact they've never seen so many flags in their lives. Canadian politicians have also been very generous and I took the liberty of presenting some members of the British Parliament with a few flags. I only gave them to those who had supported both Canadian and British fishermen.

I gave one flag, donated by the Canadian Minister of Fisheries (Brian Tobin) to a journalist friend of mine who lives next door to the British Minister of Agriculture and Fisheries, Mr. William Waldegrave. Raising the Maple Leaf has concentrated the minds of many Brits who are now asking the question who is our best friend?...Canada or Europe. I know where my sympathies lie.

Gil and Mary Scott, I am giving one of your flags to Joe Brownfield, a retired fisherman who served alongside Canadians during the war. He, like so many people, has had enough of the European Union and feels closer to Canada, 3000 miles away, than to Europe just across the channel.

I must close now. I've got literally hundreds of letters to reply to between my sea-going duties.

Once again, many thanks to everyone and my very best wishes to all.

Be your own forecaster

If hurricanes are the largest storms on earth, tornadoes are the most violent. Technically a tornado is a violent, rotating column of air usually with a small diameter extending from the turbulent cloud to the earth and is easily recognized by its funnel shape. Visually, you can notice a greenish tinge in the approaching clouds. Tornadoes generally travel from south west to north east, or west to east, most often occurring after noon or in the evening. Your best defence is to be alert to conditions in the sky. May, June and July are tornado months.

On May 8, 1945, the lights of London were lit for the first time since the beginning of the blitz. For one woman, a member of the Canadian Woman's Army Corp, it was a sight she would never forget.

Remembering VE Day, 50 years later

by Andrew Milne

"We just stood around in amazement and watched as different ones lit up."

Fern Donnelly was in London, England on May 8, 1945, the day the lights came on again after years of blackout — the day the war in Europe ended. Seeing the city lit up for the first time is her most striking memory, she says. A member of the Canadian Women's Army Corp (CWAC), Donnelly had come to London in 1943, and had never seen the city's lights before that day.

It was 50 years ago today, and VE (Victory in Europe) Day is now one of the 'touchstones' of history for the generation that lived through it. They remember where they were when they first heard it was over. They remember celebrations that stretched for hours and days.

They remember euphoria, elation, and profound relief.

To even imagine how much relief, would have to imagine what Donnelly had lived through for the previous two years. As well as the stress of worrying about relatives and friends closer to the front lines in Europe, Donnelly, the office she worked in, the house she lived in, and the whole of London had been under siege from the air for some time.

Donnelly remembers the air raids — the buzz bombs, the V2s. What was especially alarming about the buzz bombs, says Donnelly, was that you could hear them coming but you could never tell where they were going to land.

She remembers close calls with the bombs, too. "We had a couple within our building," she says. "The minute the sirens went we had to go to the basement. One bomb landed a couple of blocks from us, and threw three or four of us across the floor, which was kind of interesting."

"We carried helmets," she muses. "Which was funny. We carried lunch, lipstick, and everything else in them. Couldn't see what good they would have done."

But Donnelly says her experience in London was only all the terror of air raids. She was young, and just getting overseas had been an adventure. Yes, when the planes were overhead, she says, you felt fear. But even that you got used to, after a fashion.

The blackout, she says, was an inconvenience as much as anything, just something else to get used to. "You knew where the station was — the subway station," she says. "You'd take your little flashlight if you thought you needed it."

The funny thing is, she says, as with lot of things, it isn't the bad things she seems to remember.

Donnelly (left) and friends celebrate the war's end. 45,000 Canadians died in the war in Europe. Canadians are asked to honk their horns for two minutes at noon today, the fiftieth anniversary.

"You remember the good and the funny things. When we're all together for a reunion or something," she says. "We think, well, it wasn't all fun, but we don't remember the bad things. Except I think the homesickness, especially at Easter and Christmas. At Christmas I'm sure we wore out 25 records of 'I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas'. It was the only one we played."

Naturally, she remembers VE Day, vividly — Donnelly was with the crowds that surged into Piccadilly Circus, Leicester Square, Trafalgar Square, Whitehall, and up to the main gate of Buckingham Palace, waiting to hear the official word that hostilities had ceased. She went to the service at St. Martins-in-the-Fields, and watched as the royal family greeted the crowd from their balcony afterwards.

Seeing Big Ben lit up, and the flags and banners in Pall Mall by night, she says, was a gorgeous sight, entirely unforgettable.

In reflection, says Donnelly, it is hard to know what to say to younger generations, who did not live through the war. "We were just there," she says, "and you never thought. I was 20 when I went. Most of the people I knew were in that same age bracket. Now things happen to kids much younger."

She says that she and those with her had wanted to believe the second world war really would be the war to end all wars. She's not sure what to think now, faced with the reality that it so clearly was not.

"When our ex-CWAC's meet to remember," she says, "we give thanks to God that we are able to come together, and pray that our children and those of the world might know peace."

Reeves, MPP join fight for doctors and hospital

by Andrew Milne

Reeves from the catchment area served by Minden Hospital have written Minister of Health Ruth Grier to request her assistance in addressing concerns.

"The letter basically summarizes the status of the situation here, and the concern that we need her assistance in resolving all these problems, and that we would like to meet with her," says Anson, Hindon and Minden reeve Jeanne Anthon.

Reeves representing the municipalities of Anson, Hindon and Minden; Galway-Cavendish; Laxton, Digby and Longford; Lutterworth; Stanhope; and Bexley met last week to discuss the situation, and had a letter enroute to Grier as of May 5.

Says Anthon, "There was a lot of talk about the ramifications to Haliburton and north Victoria of the closing of the in-patient beds. We've lost nearly 50 percent of the in-patient beds, and that's something we have to recognize as having serious implications."

Anthon also notes she feels this letter is unique, as an expression of concern unanimously endorsed by representatives of every single municipality in the hospital's catchment area.

As well as going to the health minister, copies of the letter will also be sent to Victoria Haliburton MPP Chris Hodgson, Peterborough MPP Elmer Buchanan, the directors of St. Joseph's Hospital and Health Centre, and to Foster Loucks, executive director of this region's Acting Health Services Board.

Minden Hospital's in-patient ward was closed following the abrupt departure of one of only two doctors available full time to staff its call rota. At the suggestion of a local group, St. Joseph's of Peterborough, which administers the Minden facility, hired an emergency medical staffing service called Med-Emerg to cover the emergency department, but closed the in-patient ward, saying Med-Emerg's doctors could not guarantee what they consider satisfactory continuity of care. Med-Emerg has, however, been hired to cover in-patient wards on weekends in other hospitals in Ontario. The nearest hospitals with in-patient wards are now Haliburton, 23 km to the North, and Ross Memorial in Lindsay, 76 km to the south.

This past week, Victoria-Haliburton MPP Chris Hodgson issued a press release concerning the medical crisis in Minden. The conservative candidate in the upcoming provincial election has been working with local groups in seeking solutions to the situation.

The recent departure of one of the two Minden Hospital doctors has caused a reduction in services that Chris Hodgson says is unacceptable, the press release stated.

Hodgson vowed to continue working alongside the residents of Minden to help bring more physicians to their area -- and keep them there. "The availability of health care services is essential to the permanent residents of our area and they also play an important role in the promotion of Minden as a tourism destination", said Hodgson. "Knowing that there is a hospital nearby gives visitors and potential new residents an added sense of security".

"I strongly object to the reduction in services that this has meant for our area", says Hodgson. "With the summer tourist season just getting under way, and one of the highest concentrations of seniors in the province, we can't afford a 50% bed reduction in Haliburton County. I am looking forward to working with Foster Loucks, the new Executive Director of the Minden and Haliburton hospitals, to resolve this issue as quickly as possible".

Hodgson believes that it is possible to preserve both emergency and in-patient care at the Minden Hospital, but action needs to be taken immediately to ensure continuity of service. Hodgson recommends the following:

- Obtaining a Bill 50 exemption to attract out-of-province physicians;

Walk-in clinic now in operation

The Minden Medical Centre will also be operating during its normal hours and can be reached at 286-2001.

Patients who have problems obtaining an appointment at either of the two medical clinics are advised that a walk-in clinic is now operating at the Minden Hospital. This clinic was established to assist with the heightened demand for medical services. (The walk-in clinic will not be in operation Friday May 12). Patients visiting the Hospital walk-in clinic will be seen on a first come-first served basis by the doctor covering the hospital's emergency department. Of course, emergency cases arriving at the hospital will take priority and walk-in patients may have to wait.

In the meantime, efforts continue to attract doctors to the community on a permanent basis. It is the lack of family practitioners which has resulted in the reduction of hospital services and the difficulty individuals are experiencing in obtaining a medical appointment. A committee of citizens is working with local politicians, the medical community, the Acting Health Services Board and St. Joseph's Hospital in an effort to alleviate the shortage and return the Minden Hospital to full services.

"Making preplanning arrangements is a simple process."

"If you've ever thought about making advance funeral plans, you probably have a lot of questions. There may be some uncertainty about what these arrangements include.

Preplanning is simply making a written record of your requests. Or you have the option to prepay for services or merchandise.

The reasons people choose to preplan may vary, but most want to assure their loved ones aren't burdened financially or emotionally. It's a comfort to know things are taken care of."

Health care petition started

by Andrew Milne

A local woman has started a petition to the Ministry of Health (MOH) for better health care in this region.

Says Michelle Costello-Watson, "We were petitioning to get more doctors up here, due to the fact there's not adequate health care up in this area, and we were also asking at the same time that the doctors that do come here are not here temporarily."

Costello-Watson says she contacted the Ontario College of Physicians and Surgeons about wording the petition so it could be seriously considered by the MOH policy department.

Costello-Watson says she already has a lot of signatures, and hopes to get more as the snowbirds return to the north and find out what's been happening to the state of health care in the region.

Costello-Watson also says she personally feels the situation is ridiculous. As someone originally from Toronto, she says, she was utterly amazed to discover what people in rural areas put up with.

"It was the shock of coming up here," she says, "and having had a problem and having had to wait four months to get medical treatment. I think it's ridiculous."

As part of a 'rationalization' process, in which the MOH has been attempting to reduce the cost and increase the efficiency of the system over the past decade, a number of hospitals in Ontario have been closed and/or amalgamated with neighbouring facilities. In Haliburton County there are two hospitals — one in Minden and one in Haliburton, both administered by the board of St. Joseph's Hospital and Health Centre in Peterborough. As part of the rationalization process, a local board has been instructed by the MOH to consolidate acute care at either the Haliburton or Minden facility, following which the board would take over responsibility for hospital care in this county from St. Joseph's. The board recently resolved, with much difficulty, to locate the acute care beds in Haliburton, provided that certain services — including an urgent care facility — remained in Minden. The MOH has voiced approval for the consolidation of the services in Haliburton, but has been noncommittal about the part of the proposal dealing with Minden, leaving many residents in the southwest portion of the county deeply concerned for the future.

The tiny nine-bed Minden facility, 76 km from Lindsay's Ross Memorial and 23 km from the Haliburton hospital, was dealt a further blow in mid-April of this year when one of the two doctors in Minden, available on-call full time, left unexpectedly. St. Joseph's administration, at the suggestion of a local group, brought in a temporary staffing service to provide doctors for the hospital, but closed the in-patient ward, insisting the service could not provide adequately continuous care for the in-patients. The service has however been called upon to provide in-patient service on weekends in other Ontario hospitals.

Copies of the petition will be posted on the bulletin boards at the landings at Big Hawk and Little Hawk Lake, and in a number of local businesses yet to be confirmed. Persons wishing to find out where they can sign can contact Costello-Watson at 489-4102.

Wallace in court

Frank Wallace appeared in court April 19, again only long enough to set the date of his next appearance, June 7.

Wallace, a teacher at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School, has been charged with three counts of sexual exploitation — allegedly involving a single female victim on three different occasions.

The charge of sexual exploitation involves sexual touching or invitation to the same, and applies to persons in a position of trust or authority — such as teachers, counsellors, or parents — with persons 14 or over but younger than 18.

Clean up crew

Citizens from throughout the community joined in a spring clean-up blitz Saturday April 28. Sponsored by Dollo's IGA, the volunteers worked through the village, picking up litter and debris left over from winter. This is the second year the grocery store has co-ordinated the clean-up campaign.

- Designating our region as an Underserved Area to attract graduating Ontario doctors;
- Aggressively marketing Minden as an area for new doctors to locate;
- Establishing a rural residency and training program to develop a pool of professionals qualified in rural medicine;
- Changing the method of physician remuneration for emergency services;
- Developing permanent links and relationships between rural hospitals and Academic Health Science Centres (medical schools);

- Dedicating 30% of family practitioner residency spaces to rural medicine.

"Before the election call, the Minister gave me her word that Minden will receive the Bill 50 exemption", Hodgson says. "I intend to see that she, or whoever becomes Minister of Health after June 8, lives up to that commitment."

In the by-election last year, our leader Mike Harris indicated that health care services in Minden would be protected and we've made health care one of the cornerstones of our election platform.

Off and running

The two main candidates for the June 8 provincial election have officially hit the campaign trail following the election call by Premier Bob Rae at the end of April.

Incumbent Chris Hodgson, representing the Progressive Conservative Party and Liberal hopeful Sharon McCrae were busy canvassing voters this past week, attending meetings and putting the final touches on their campaigns. The two candidates have been on the campaign trail for months. They received the nominations from their parties early, in anticipation of a spring election call.

The New Democratic Party is expected to add another candidate to the list tonight (May 8) in Lindsay at a nomination meeting.

Put your foot down

Sneaker Day is May 15.

The event, organized for Health Canada is part of a community-based initiative to encourage personal commitment to living a healthy lifestyle, explains organizer Estella Burch.

The event isn't a fundraiser. There are no pledge forms to fill out, nor sign up sheet to complete. Just show up if you're interested. This week's course starts at the gazebo next to the bridge on Bobcaygeon Road/Main Street. From there it goes up Main to McKnight, West on McKnight to Anson, North on Anson to Peck, and East on Peck back to Main.

"We're hoping everyone will get out to join us," says Burch.

The event isn't a race — people can come out and complete the course at whatever pace suits them. Nurses will be present to check participants' blood pressure. The event starts at 11 am and goes to 1 pm.

Community initiatives

One of the most positive and challenging aspects of what is commonly known as government down-sizing, is the increase in the sense of being a part of a community and sharing in the responsibility for its well-being by citizens. Several examples of that feeling, at the most basic level, have emerged locally over the past few months.

For too long, citizens have turned to their governments for the solutions to all sorts of problems. And in general, the governments responded with well-meaning programs, financial assistance and cookie-cutter solutions that often didn't fit the problem.

In appearing to be able to provide the answers to all problems, governments have relieved the community of its sense of responsibility and control over its own destiny. However, now that the financial burden is becoming overwhelming, governments are starting to back away from all the responsibilities they have assumed. In the wake of this withdrawal, the community is left to its own devices to fill in the missing pieces.

It is a situation fraught with hazards. Unless the citizens have the skills or initiative to step-in to fill the void, the community could suffer.

It would appear that neither is lacking here. On the most basic level, we see neighbourhoods, businesses and organizations spear-heading community-improvement projects. During the past few weeks, several groups have been out on the local streets and highways gathering the debris left in the wake of winter. Others are involved in attempting to resolve the problems surrounding health care and still others, working quietly, often individually, volunteer their time and expertise to make ours a better community.

There is still a place for the leadership and direction we have entrusted to our elected bodies, but there is no doubt that greater responsibility will fall to the initiative of the citizens of the community as a whole. We are fortunate that such initiative appears to be alive and well in our communities.

Offended

Editor:

I have been reading No Weibe's letter and often shaking my head in disbelief! I would like to think that mothers everywhere are equally offended.

"Meanness" and responsibility lying with the female originator? If my mother taught me anything, it was compassion for others. As far as responsibility resting on the female, where have you been? Many fathers are at home nurturing their children while mothers are at work.

Perhaps you should seek counselling in regard to your originator. Give young girls and boys alike a chance to form their own opinions.

Lorie Reddering,

Grandparents rights?

Editor:

On May 5, Bill C-232 is scheduled for final reading in the House of Commons. This Bill would give grandparents the automatic right to appear before the court in a divorce case involving parents of grandchildren. The grandparents would be asking that an order be put into the divorce decree granting grandparents access to, and in rare cases, custody of their grandchildren.

As well the Bill would ensure that grandparents receive information about the health, education and welfare of their grandchildren.

This is a private member's Bill, introduced by Daphne Jennings, MP, Mission-Coquitlan. It is rare for such a Bill to be passed. Bill C-232 is such an urgent Bill that every member, regardless of party affiliation, should support it. Please write or fax your MP today encouraging him to support the Bill.

Today one of every three marriages in Canada ends in divorce or separation. At present grandparents have no rights. It is not uncommon for grandparents to be prevented from even seeing their grandchildren. Passage of Bill C-232 is your opportunity to change this heart-breaking situation. You may benefit from its passage.

Write your MP today.

The Times welcomes signed letters to the editor on subjects of interest to our readers. Short letters are most likely to be chosen for publication, but the use of any material is at the discretion of the editor. The editor reserves the right to edit letters to meet space requirements, for clarity or to avoid obscenity, libel or invasion of privacy.

Upon request, names may be withheld, but only very rarely and for compelling reasons. Letters published do not necessarily reflect the editorial policies or beliefs of this newspaper. All letters must bear the handwritten signature of the writer and include the address and phone number for verification purposes.

A response

Editor:

I would like to respond to a few of the letters which appeared in response to my letter to the editor of March 6.

To Zoe Chilco of Carnarvon: Many thanks for your letter confirming that the 1-800 phone number for the Whitby Psychiatric Hospital and Crisis Intervention number was valid. Hospitals usually don't just treat people who live within a defined area, they assist anyone who comes to them requiring help.

To D.L. Ottley of Haliburton: In re-reading my March 6 letter, I can emphatically state that nowhere did I express the opinion that wars merely harm or debase women. Whose letter were you reading anyway? Also, I have never treated the rights of women and children as a game. In addition, I abhor violence and war as much as I abhor any form of savagery or waste.

You explained correctly that the parent who has custody of the children has access to many forms of emotional and financial support that the community and government can supply. This is only fair. Why would the non-custodial parent need financial benefits for his or her children? If the non-custodial parent is financially destitute, then they too can apply for personal welfare benefits.

To Sheri Hawkins of Minden: Thank you for your prayers for my happiness and healing...but they are not necessary. I think you should know a little bit about me as a person as I'm not the person you described in your letter.

You described me as being angry, resentful, fanatical and bitter sounding. In truth I am poised, determined, passionate and vibrant.

I am a sixth generation Canadian who is a middle-aged woman in the prime of her life. For the past 24 years I've had a remarkable relationship with a man who just happens to be both my husband and high school sweetheart. I am the mother of a wonderful son.

I am a feminist. I am also a gun owner, but I am not a member of any lobby group demanding registration and/or confiscation of guns. My favourite bumper sticker reads: "When guns are outlawed, only outlaws will have guns".

I have never compared Hitler to the male race as you suggested, so now I must ask you, "Whose letter were you reading?" Besides it's the male sex, not the male race.

I know that Hitler had guns confiscated during his regime, but Jean Chretien (our Prime Minister), Allan Rock (our Justice Minister) and V.J. MacDonald (President of the Canadian Association of Police Chiefs) are also following that path toward the same goal. After all, unarmed peasants are easier to control.

How many letters have you written to these government officials denouncing them for their actions? Not as many as the members of my family have, I'm sure.

I do not alter history. History is revising itself constantly. And those who do not learn from history are condemned to repeat the same mistakes.

Please do not lecture me about Hitler, World War Two and Vietnam. As an avid history buff I have studied these subjects thoroughly from all sides.

In 1944 my father-in-law was barely 17 years old when he was conscripted into the Panzer Tank Division. Of the five men in his tank, he was the only one to survive. And after Degrees of justice and injustice

Editor:

The most that we can expect in this life are varying degrees of justice....and injustice.

Equality is a myth that I am surprised to see in Zoe Chilco's letter, still being touted as some kind of panacea to local school children.

Nature itself has made even children so unequal and with such uneven rates of development that, for example (and this should please Miss Chilco to no end), in the same age group--from roughly grade three to grade seven--the average girl is taller, stronger and smarter than the average boy...until he catches up (and more) in high school.

Pressure groups have forever used the tired old "equality" scarecrow to push ahead their agenda of the moment. The republicans have brought down a number of atrocities this way. The Marxists have, in turn, wiped out their share of bourgeois systems by hollering "Equality for the Workers!" And, lo and behold!...they were themselves almost all overturned by US capitalism under the slogan of democracy.

Social sorcerer-apprentices, by unleashing their "equality" and "democracy" monsters on the labour market have fostered the birth of the most horrible offspring: unemployment for men.

Before "equality", and when morals still meant something to employers (why should they now care as morals do not mean anything to most people?), one household could live and prosper on one wage: that of the head of the family.

Once most families were convinced that two wages were needed, mothers started competing with fathers, and, working for less money, they drove a great many men to the ranks of the unemployed.

Some "equality", some "democracy"!

Charles Lutz, Haliburton.

The Age of PeeCeemanian

The next fad coming on the Mania Turnpike

Back in the 17th century, the Dutch went nuts over tulip bulbs. Merchants, soldiers, peasants, nobility — virtually everyone in Holland unaccountably decided that they must get in on the tulip bulb trade. One burgher in Amsterdam offered two wagons of wheat, four wagonloads of rye, four fat oxen, eight pigs, a dozen sheep, two barrels of wine, four barrels of beer, two barrels of butter, 1,000 pounds of cheese, a bed, a new suit of clothes and a silver beaker.

And for what?

For a single tulip bulb.

Many Dutch traded away their farms, their houses, everything they owned for the chance to possess some 'rare' tulip bulb or other. The madness spread like wildfire until 1637, when panic swept the bulb collectors. Suddenly everyone wanted to sell and nobody wanted to buy. The world's one and only outbreak of Tulipmania was over.

But you never know when a mass mania will come along and gobble us up. In our grandparents' time, the arrival of Halley's Comet was enough to convince thousands that the world was coming to an end. They left their homes and jobs and went up the nearest mountain to await Armageddon.

In the 1930's, Orson Welles convinced tens of thousands of gullible American radio listeners that Martians had landed and were taking over the earth.

Back in the 60's, hundreds of thousands of teeny boppers flocked like mayflies to the rhythm of four shaggy lads from Liverpool.

I think I've spotted the next fad on the Mania Turnpike. I believe we are trembling on the threshold of a historical period that will become known to future anthropologists as The Age of PeeCeemanian.

PC. Political Correctness. It's a movement that's been with us for a few years. A movement that should by now have perished from its own absurdity, but it hasn't. It's getting stronger. Witness these tales culled from the news wires this past little while:

ITEM: Hostess Frito-Lay Canada Ltd., has jettisoned a $4 million ad campaign to introduce a new potato chip bag. Reason? The headline on the ad read "Kiss the Old Bag Goodbye". Some professional whiner in Toronto decried the ad as "appalling and profoundly anti-woman." Hostess Frito-Lay caved in and yanked the ad.

All I can say is: what a crock of chips.

ITEM: The University of Toronto has pulled an edition of the campus newspaper off the newsstands, in response to complaints from students, women and the Masonic Lodge. The student newspaper was a spoof of the Toronto Sun (how the hell do you spoof the Toronto Sun?) which included an article about how the Masonic Lodge was plotting to take over the university by spiking cafeteria food with emetics.

An official claimed the spoof "had gone beyond the boundaries of normally accepted humour of the college community."

ITEM: In Davis, California — a town so politically correct that it is verboten to smoke cigarettes OUTDOORS — town fathers have recently saved a bundle of taxpayers money. They won't be filling the potholes in the streets of Davis, because the potholes have been declared "historical resources" — part of the Davis archaeological heritage.

Will the lunacy never end? Who knows? But at least it's begun to turn back on itself.

At the University of Pennsylvania recently a woman was kicked out of a meeting of a group called "White Women Against Racism". Reason? Well, the woman was black, you see, and the members of the WWAR Committee felt her presence would make white women uncomfortable.

Gee. Isn't that the same argument Governor George Wallace used?

Morgan was presented with a second term past president bar and honorary president bar. Joyce Hughes received a past president medal and lapel pin as well as a second term past president bar.

A special Appreciation plaque was presented to Jerry Grozelle of The Times, Minden, for all his newspaper coverage of special events of the Royal Canadian Legion Branch 441 in Kinmount. The presentation was made by Branch 441 president Joe Kelly.

A life membership was presented to comrade Bill Holstock by zone commander Sally Bonner.

At the end of the presentations, Lou Brown from the Haliburton Pipe Band, pipied in veterans to receive their 50-year service medals. F4 zone commander Sally Bonner and MPP Chris Hodgson made the presentations. Hodgson also presented certificates of appreciation. The recipients were Art Owens, Richard Hilyer, Bill Holstock, James Allen, Norm Gilmore and Norm Silver. Six other 50-year veterans who were unable to attend the function were awarded. They were: Robert Pratt, Albert Stata, Arthur Williams, Harold Wright, Russell Spenceley and Walter Hamilton.

Hillary Kelly, president of the Ladies' Auxiliary, presented a V-Day Commemorative Flag to the branch, which was accepted by president Joe Kelly.

National white water slalom trials in Minden this weekend

The Canadian National Team Trials for Slalom - White Water will be held at the Minden Wild Water Preserve this coming weekend, May 12, 13 and 14. The event is the key element for the selection of the Canadian team for the Olympics in Atlanta, according to Harold Van Winssen, outgoing president of White Water Canada.

"It will be the most hotly contested event of its kind in Canada, by far," Van Winssen said.

Competitors from across the country will be vying for a place on the National team for 1995. The team qualifiers will be competing at the five World Cups from June to August of this year, they will also be taking part in the World Competition in Nottingham, England in September 1995.

There are four places in each of the following categories: K-1M (single kayak, men), K-1W (single kayak, women), C-1 (single closed Canadian canoe, men) and C-2 (double closed Canadian canoe, men). When these positions are filled, members will be chosen for spots on the development squad.

Successful members of the National team will be eligible to compete at qualifying events that will be used in the evaluation of qualification for nomination to the Olympic Team that will represent Canada at the 1996 Summer Olympics.

White water slalom became an Olympic sport in 1972.

Some of the prominent names to watch for at the Minden event include Sheryl Boyle, David Ford, Benoit Gauthier, Francois Letourneau and Larry Norman.

Sheryl Boyle is an Ottawa Valley native who began kayaking in 1984. She first made the national team in 1988 and has represented Canada at international events ever since. She was Canada's first woman to win a World Cup medal, the silver, at Nottingham England in 1992.

She races in the K-1W class. She is the current women's kayak champion of Canada.

Albertan David Ford is the national men's kayak champion. He has been the dominant force in men's kayak since 1990. He is the first Canadian to win a White Water World Cup -- in Italy in 1992. He is currently ranked in the top 15 in the world.

Quebecers Benoit Gauthier and Francois Letourneau are 1993 and 1994 national champions in men's double canoe. They are currently ranked in the top 15 in the world. They have only been together as a team since 1992 and their potential for Atlanta is very promising.

Larry Norman of British Columbia has been the Canadian men's single canoe champion many times. He was the winner of the 1994 National Team Trials.

The itinerary for this weekend's activities begins with organized practice starting at 10 a.m. Friday. Demonstration runs will get under way at 3 p.m., with practice runs starting at 4:30 p.m.

Qualifying runs will start at 10 a.m. Saturday and continue until 3 p.m., followed by re-runs and demonstrations until after 4 p.m.

Sunday's qualifying runs will begin at 10 a.m. and continue to 3 p.m., when the re-runs are scheduled. The National Team 1995 meeting is slated for 5 p.m.

The Sports Network will be there to capture the event on film. The TSN coverage will be sponsored by Pepsi and the Haliburton County Chamber of Commerce.

Tristan Pawluch brings home a gold medal

Three skaters represent Minden club at Scarborough Skate Competition

Three members of the Minden Skating Club competed at the Scarborough Skate Competition on the April 28-30 weekend. They competed against a very difficult field of skaters from as far away as Quebec and Windsor, as well as many from the Toronto area.

Club officials said they were very proud of the trio, who "skated their best and showed excellent sportsmanship."

Jasmine Wilson competed in the junior bronze A ladies' event. She placed third in her flight and 11th in the final.

Lindsay Harpley placed 12th in the junior bronze B ladies' event.

Tristan Pawluch brought home a gold medal in the senior men's bronze B event.

All three skaters are coached by Jane Symons, who has been with the club for 14 years.

"This is the first time I can remember anyone bringing home the gold (from the Scarborough event)," she said.

This was the fourth year that Pawluch has competed at Scarborough Skate. It concluded a very successful and eventful competitive year, with his perseverance paying off.

Thanks to the capable and professional coaching of Symons, these skaters are achieving their goals.

Hamilton earns a place with Selects

by Jerry Grozelle

At 13 years of age, Michael Hamilton of Minden already has nine years of hockey experience under his belt. He'll be adding more over the next couple of months playing for the Central Ontario Selects triple A hockey team, which is based in Lindsay.

Hamilton played for the Minden peewee A Monarchs the last couple of seasons. He'll be moving up to bantam this fall.

Hamilton was scouted about two months ago and asked if he would be interested in trying out for the Selects. The winger made the cut and has already played a few games with the team.

The Selects will play in four major tournaments by the end of the season in July. Two of those tournaments will be in Toronto, one is in Guelph and one will be on home ice in Lindsay. The team will play exhibition games every weekend that the boys aren't involved in tournament action.

Players are asked to round up their own sponsorship. Hamilton's sponsors are two Minden businesses, Campbell's Subway Sandwiches and Stedman's V&S.

SELECTED: Michael Hamilton (second from right) is seen here with the business owners who sponsored him to play for the Central Ontario Peewee Selects Triple A hockey team. They are John and Robin Thomas of Stedman's V&S and Kim Campbell of Campbell's Subway Sandwiches

Down the hall and around the world

Students in the primary division at Archie Stouffer Elementary School had an opportunity to travel around the world on Thursday.

The youngsters participated in a travelling day, visiting each country, an-visiting each classroom "country" or culture from various spots on the globe. The students were issued passports, complete with photo identification and travel documents. As they visited each country, another stamp was marked in their passports.

PASSPORT CONTROL: Josh Warburton and Kourtney Matysek stamp the passports of the students who visited "Mexico".

The students in each of the Kindergarten to grade three classrooms explained some of the customs and traditions of the country or culture they represented. Maps and photographs depicting the countries decorated the classrooms. In some classrooms, the students could see souvenirs and artifacts from the countries being featured.

And just in case anyone became a little homesick with all the travel, one class featured a scale model of the Minden area, complete with streets, the river and the major buildings of the community identified.

Parents and friends were invited to view the displays during an open house Thursday evening. The world tour was one of a number of activities held at the school in conjunction with Education Week.

Bark Lake supporters mount letter writing campaign

by Andrew Milne

The Friends of Bark Lake (FOBL) have started a letter writing campaign in an attempt to convince the provincial government not to close the camp.

The Ministry of Culture, Tourism and Recreation (MCTR) announced April 17 that the facility, in operation since 1948, would close as of August 31 of this year. Bark Lake, which runs leadership training programs, had been in the middle of a restructuring aimed at making it financially independent, when it was shut down. Critics of the decision point out that had the camp been allowed to complete this restructuring, and had all gone according to plan, the camp would have been operating at no cost to the taxpayer by 1999 anyway. The FOBL also say:

■ the $1.2 million the MCTR had claimed as savings in closing the camp is a misleading figure. Although the camp did cost $1.2 annually to run, it also returned $450,000 to general revenue last fiscal year, and was expected to return $600,000 based on bookings for this year;

■ that the camp's programs — including cultural linkage programs with Japan, leadership programs for Franco-Ontarians, and programs aimed at preventing youth at risk from dropping out of school — are too valuable to let drop;

■ that in view of the $5 million invested in the last three years by the MCTR in winterizing and improving the facilities to make them more cost-effective, the decision to close at this point does not make financial sense;

■ that now, more than ever, the development of youth — to which Bark Lake has contributed for nearly 50 years — is vital to Ontario's future.

Jill Vandal is a member of the board of the FOBL, and attended the camp in her teens and in her twenties. Vandal reports the FOBL has sent out 2,200 letters to potential supporters, asking them to sign them and send them to Ontario Premier Bob Rae, or better still, to write and send their own letters.

Says Vandal, "We've gotten a number of calls... and know that people are very anxious to make sure Bob Rae hears their concerns — and are willing to do things above and beyond the letter writing campaign. So it's going very well, as far as we can tell."

Vandal also says the typical reaction from callers has been "just a sort of shock", and that people want to know what else they can do to help, and to make sure people find out about what is happening to Bark Lake.

The FOBL ask supporters of the camp to address their concerns to the Hon. Anne Swarbrick, Minister, Culture, Tourism, and Recreation, 6th Floor, 77 Bloor Street West, Toronto, ON, M7A 2R9, Facsimile (416) 314-7774, or to the Hon. Bob Rae, Premier of Ontario, Legislative Building, Queens Park, Toronto, ON, M7A 1A1, Facsimile (416) 326-1449.

A special night for Club 35's Edith Russell

Residents of Halls Lake, family and friends of Edith Russell, gathered at Club 35 April 28 to pay tribute to her.

The event caught the soon-to-be 94 year old native of the area completely by surprise. "We are here to thank you for everything you've done for the community and Club 35," Stanhope municipal councillor and master of ceremonies for the evening, Jim Hicks commented. Edith reacted with surprise and shy delight as all eyes turned toward her and camera flashes fired.

Hicks told the crowd that Edith was born at Hall's Lake in 1901. She married Eldon Russell and raised three children, Elmer (now deceased) and daughters Delores and Doris, both of whom were on hand for the celebration. Edith's husband passed away in 1963.

Edith has five grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. She still lives in the family home on Halls Lake with her companion, Sam the cat.

The MC described Edith as, "an avid euchre

Surrounded by her friends June Branning, Verna Sawyer and Oliver Daniels, Edith Russell was presented with a bouquet of flowers at her special night April 28 at Club 35 at Halls Lake.

player, she loves Bingo and still enjoys going out to lunch or brunch with family or friends. She is a regular participant at the Wheels to Meals Luncheon held at Club 35 twice a month."

A number of those in attendance added their comments to those already offered by the MC. Friend Ken Wallis recalled coming to Club 35 about 10 years ago to learn euchre.

"I learned a few things from Edith," he said with a wry smile that indicated he had been "euchred" more than once by his teacher.

Neighbour and friend Betty Campbell described Edith as someone, "Who made me feel welcome when I moved here."

Speaking on behalf of the municipality, Reeve Jock Mavor offered "warmest regards on this special day."

Grandson Tom Gardner shared a number of memories with his grandmother at the cottage. "There was always a quilt on a frame in the living room," Gardner remembers. "She was either making it for the church, or Club 35, or some community group. And I seem to recall her saying, 'This will be the last one...its just too much.' However, the next time I came up, there was another quilt in the living room."

Tom Gardner, who lives in Stanhope now, recalled that his grandmother's baked goods were always the most popular. He said Club 35 was the centre of the community, and, "you could always find her there, involved and doing things."

"Grandma was a take-charge sort of person. We were darn lucky to have her to watch over us."

Responding to the tributes, Edith told the crowd they had been successful in keeping the surprise from her. "Thank you to everyone who came out tonight," she said simply.

A night to remember

Rudy Edwards will be going to the HHSS Prom in style this year thanks to a fund-raising project by Ontario Students Against Impaired Driving (OSAID) at HHSS. The group held a raffle last month at the high school with the prize being a complete prom package. The package includes limousine service to and from the prom provided by Personalized Limousine Services; $25 off dinner for two at McKeck's; a free corsage for his date from Nancy's Flowers; prom tickets; and free formal photographs. The various components of the prize were either donated or provided at a reduced price. With the limousine as a backdrop, Nancy Brink of Nancy's Flowers presents Rudy Edwards with his prize envelope. On hand to witness the event were, from the left, front row, OSAID members Sarah Levis, Jennifer Graham, staff adviser Miss Hawthorne, Lynn Simmons; back row, Robin Flood, Tanya Hartwick, Sarah McMahon, Kim Harding, Christy Ackerblade, Tiffany Orpana representing the prom committee, Rudy Edwards, Nancy Brink, Nickie from Nancy's Flowers and Kyla Grexton. Martin Grant of Personalized Limousine Services can be seen behind the limousine. (Photo by Misty Bennett)

Breathe Easy program helps those with lung problems

"Breathe Easy" a program about living with lung disease is returning to Haliburton County. A one-day seminar is planned for Tuesday, May 18, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Home Support drop-in centre in Haliburton Village.

If you are a person with lung disease, you are not alone. One in every five Canadians suffers from a breathing problem and the Lung Association would like to help you "breathe easy". The program has been designed to offer individuals the knowledge and the skills needed to enjoy an active and rewarding lifestyle.

This seminar will again be conducted by Michelle Woodhead, a respiratory therapist, employed at Ross Memorial Hospital in Lindsay. Michelle is also an active volunteer on behalf of the Lung Association for Victoria and Hali-burton Counties.

Persons suffering from emphysema, chronic bronchitis, asthma or other lung problems will gain much useful information about their condition and their medications. Medications should be brought along as we ensure these are being used properly.

It is suggested that participants bring a brown bag lunch. Beverages will be supplied.

To register call the Haliburton County Home Support Services at 1-800-567-2941 or the Lung Association at 705-324-6497.

Rabies month

May is rabies awareness month in Ontario.

The Ministry of Natural Resources, and government, working with the Ontario Veterinary Association have joined together to combat rabies and raise awareness of the disease.

The first line of defence, according to an MNR press release, is to immunize all pets just in case they come in contact with rabid animals.

As part of the education plan, veterinarians will be visiting schools during May to speak to students about rabies awareness.

To help reduce the incidence of rabies in the wild the ministry will be distributing close to two million vaccine baits this fall with the hope that foxes will consume the meat and at the same time acquire the protection.

QUALIFIED VOTERS

Be Sure of Your Vote

JUNE 8th, 1995

You can help make sure YOUR NAME is on the NEW LIST of VOTERS for the Ontario Provincial Election.

If you are eligible and wish to vote, it's up to you to make sure your name is on the NEW LIST of VOTERS. You must answer (or provide the information for someone else to answer) the questions the Enumerators will be asking. This will make sure your name does appear on the NEW LIST of VOTERS so that you can vote.

CAN YOU VOTE ON JUNE 8th?

These are the questions the Enumerators will ask:

- (1) On Election Day will you be 18 years of age or over?
- (2) On Election Day will you be a Canadian Citizen?
- (3) On Election Day will you have resided in Ontario for the preceding 6 months?
- (4) On Election Day will you be a resident at this address?

They should also ask if there are other eligible voters resident at your address.

The phone numbers for Electoral District Returning Offices are available from Directory Assistance. If you require information specific to your Electoral District, ask for "Elections Ontario" and then the Electoral District by name.

WHAT YOU SHOULD KNOW ABOUT ENUMERATION

The two Enumerators who will soon be calling at your door should produce their appointment form and identify themselves and the purpose of their visit.

If you are at home, or if someone else can answer their questions, the Enumerators will complete a Form 301 for you and for any other qualified members of the household. The names of all eligible voters should then appear on the NEW LIST of VOTERS.

If they miss you on their first visit, they will be making other visits or "call backs". Please give them access in order to help make sure the NEW LIST of VOTERS is as complete as possible.

FOR GENERAL ELECTION INFORMATION, CALL:
TORONTO AREA 416-754-VOTE (8683)
OUTSIDE TORONTO 1-800-668-2727

If you have friends or relatives who have difficulty reading, please make them aware of the information in this notice.

Drama Club prepares spring whodunit

by Misty Bennett, HHSS student reporter

The flair for drama returns to the high school this week as the HHSS Drama Club prepares for its second presentation of the year.

Picnic at Hanging Rock is the name of the club's most recent undertaking. The play is directed by Mr. Wayne Cooper and student Marc Letourneau.

Letourneau confessed, "It's not a difficult plot to understand." The story revolves around a picnic at a place known as Hanging Rock. "This is the type of rock where mysterious things occur," Letourneau explains, "you wouldn't want to go there alone." The story unfolds as three students and a teacher disappear while on an outing.

The play is best described as a murder-mystery whodunit. Of course, the plot is liberally sprinkled with the usual number of false clues just to keep the audience guessing.

There is a cast of 22 and a crew of 10, all of whom worked well together to make the play a reality.

The main feat of the backstage crew was not the lighting or the advertising. The biggest challenge was to build a structure to represent the hanging rock. The crew built the large structure on the stage, as attempting to move it would have proved to be impossible.

Picnic at Hanging Rock runs this Thursday, Friday and Saturday (May 11-13) with curtain time at 7:30 p.m. Tickets are available through The Storeroom Natural Foods in Minden and Paulette's Gifts and

Outdoors Card expires for some

The Ministry of Natural Resources is reminding anglers and hunters who received an Outdoors Card in 1993 that their three-year Outdoors Card will expire at the end of 1995. Affected Outdoors Card holders will receive a notice of renewal and an application form in the mail beginning in the late summer and should wait to apply for renewal until they have received their notice.

Card holders whose cards will expire in 1995 should ensure that MNR has their current address. To report a change of address please call MNR toll free at 1-800-387-7011.

To ensure timely receipt of the new card, the renewal application should be completed as quickly as possible, particularly is the card holder plans to fish early in the new year or to enter any of the wildlife draws in 1996.

Anglers and hunters must have a valid Outdoors Card before they can apply for a hunting or fishing licence.

Residents travel to Carnarvon for spring tea

Monday there was the usual fitness with Janice. In the afternoon Pearl, Eleanor and Janice assisted residents with bingo.

Tuesday morning Pastor Murray came in on short notice and took the chapel service. This will be his last service at Hyland Crest. He is leaving the Allsaw Pentecostal Church. The residents would like to thank Rev. Murray for his dedication to the home, his music and song, his words of kindness and the compassion he bestowed on the folks. We all wish him the very best in the future. Thank you Reverend.

Tuesday afternoon we held crafts. Everyone was doing something different. It all pertained to Mother's Day, May 12. In the late afternoon a retirement party was held in honour of Joyce Bacon. She is retiring after 25 years service in laundry. We all wish you a long, healthy, happy retirement Joyce. Members of the residents' Council attended. Tuesday evening the Girl Guides visited the home. They did some singing and then had a scavenger hunt in the home. Thank you girls.

Wednesday afternoon the comfort shoe sale took place in the auditorium. Many residents, employees and volunteers took advantage of the sale. At 2 p.m. Dottie

by Donna Wallace

Muirhead and I took eight residents to Zion United Church in Carnarvon. It was their spring cleaning tea. It was an occasion for the folks to put on their finery and go out for an enjoyable afternoon. Two or three of the folks won door prizes. We thank the U.C.W. Ladies for starting late, due to our tardiness. The residents were busy buying shoes. In the evening Pearl and Corinne had cards for the folks.

Thursday Janice raised heart rates with her morning fitness class. In the afternoon the Maple Lake U.C.W. Held a tea party. It was birthday cake week, in honour of all the April birthdays. Congratulations to this week's birthday people. They are Ken Anderson, Margaret Leboutillier and Margaret Cook. Thanks for the lovely party ladies.

The ladies did line dancing Friday afternoon. The Grandfathers 4 entertained for happy hour. They included; Don Hadley on mandolin, Bill Payne, guitar, Eldon Deacon, guitar, and Don Burch on harmonica.

We had all kinds of goodies. Bob Muirhead tended bar. The music was great as usual. I enjoy volunteering at happy hour because of the good entertainment. I am sure the residents feel likewise.

Saturday Velma Sine entertained on piano in the main lounge.

Sunday Estella Burch came in for her usual reading session, thanks Estella. In the evening Rev. Burgess delivered an enlightening sermon.

We extend our sincere sympathy to the families of the late Stuart Harrison and William Kennedy.

Weather must be warming up, I have seen some pesky blackflies around. I hope they come and go in a hurry so I can get on with my gardening.

HHSS well represented at music festival

A variety of HHSS music students have done a good job this season representing the county in various music festivals. These students have made a public display of our successes in nurturing the cultural development of our young people.

Good performances were recorded at the Toronto Kiwanis Festival in February; the Peterborough Kiwanis Festival in April; and the North Hastings Music Festival in Bancroft. There is a small measure of interest in the competitive aspect of the classes entered but it is far more instructive to hear an adjudication by a music professional and, as much as possible, to perform for and listen to other high school students in other communities.

These performance opportunities allow for a good measure of personal growth regardless of, and sometimes in spite of, the competitive side of festival classes. The chamber music groups (flute choir, clarinet quartet) received second and third awards in Toronto and Peterborough with marks in the mid '80s. The Concert Band, made up of senior students, placed third in Peterborough with a mark of 84.

This year's Grade Nine Band had a first place finish in Bancroft with a mark of 90.

All of these groups will be performing under more relaxed conditions at their Spring Concert which will take place at the high school on Wednesday, May 10 at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend and support the efforts of these young musicians.

Bank backs literacy program: books donated to students

The Haliburton branch of the Bank of Montreal presented the Ben Wicks book Born to Read to the Grade 3 classes at J.D. Hodgson Elementary School as part of Born To Read Day. Bank manager Lorne Hoppenreys presented about 75 copies of the book at a special ceremony at the school on Monday, April 24. Elementary school children from Kindergarten to Grade 3 across the country received the books from several organizations -- almost 1.7-million complimentary copies in total, at 10,000 primary schools across Canada.

The Bank of Montreal has supplied nearly 100,000 copies of the book.

The initiative is part of a national literacy awareness campaign, designed to encourage parents to take an active role in reading with their children.

Born to Read is described as a light-hearted book that uses cartoons, humour and simple language to remind parents that they are the most important teachers in their child's life. Although the format of the book is amusing, the subject matter -- literacy -- is very serious.

"There is no greater way for a child to discover the joy of reading than with a parent," says Tony Comper, president and CEO of the Bank of Montreal. "We see the investment in programs such as Born to Read as long-term solutions to many of the problems that exist within Canadian communities. We are fully committed to the promotion of literacy -- not just with our time and money, but with our hearts and minds."

The Bank of Montreal is also involved in other educational initiatives such as the Economics of Staying in School Program, the Entrepreneurial Adventure Program and the Learning Partnership, an ongoing joint venture among business, community and educators to create challenging learning and career opportunities for young people.

What is literacy?

* Literacy is the ability to read, write, calculate, speak and understand, as well as sign (for the deaf) and communicate in other forms of language according to need. It is a continuum of these skills necessary for everyday life in the home, at work, in education and in the community.

* It is the information processing skills necessary to use the printed material commonly encountered at work, at home and in the community.

* Literacy has become a currency for negotiating individual opportunities. Like currency, literacy is not evenly distributed.

* Literacy demands in our information age are rising quickly.

The reading skills of 16 per cent of Canadian adults are too limited to allow them to deal with the majority of written material encountered in everyday life (job applications, medicine bottles, school forms and others).

22% of Canadian adults do not have the skills to cope with unfamiliar and more complex reading materials.

Older Canadians, part-time workers from primary industries such as forestry, agriculture and fishing are more likely to have reading problems.

Service Clubs

by Lion Maurice Boyd

Lions elect 95-96 executive

On the weekend of April 21 - 23 the Lions of District A-16 held their nineteenth annual convention in Newmarket. Nine Lions and three Lionesses from Minden were among the 583 registered for the weekend.

Our club's secretary, Lion Greg Readman, was elected Vice District Governor for the coming Lions year. The Minden Lions, for the fifth year in a row, won the Governors contest for most visitations.

Lion Greg also won the Bulletin Award for clubs under 39 members with a twice monthly bulletin.

The guest speaker for this convention was International Director Lion Herbert S. Watanabe from Hilo, Hawaii. Lion Herbert has 37 years perfect attendance with the Hilo Waiakea Lions Club. His attendance at the many committee meetings over the weekend was very interesting and inspirational.

The officers for Lions year '95-'96 have been elected for our club and are as follows: Immediate Past President, Tom Gardner; President, Brian Moore; First Vice President, Al Stott; Second Vice President, Dennis Edlington; Third Vice President, Ted Preston; Secretary, Greg Readman; Treasurer, Scott Moore; One Year Director, Bob Harrington; Two Year Director, Lee Oster; Tail Twister, Daryl Moore; Lion Tamer, Jim Hayes; Membership Chairman, George Moulton.

These officers will begin their year on July 1 and I am sure the coming year will be another outstanding one for the Minden Lions.

We wish to thank everyone for their continued support.

This Lions Club's main goal is to assist the people of this community in making Haliburton County a better place to live.

Luxury Draw '95! There are a limited number of tickets still available. If you would like one, contact any Minden Lion or they can be purchased at McMahon Feeds, County Bowling Centre and Westside Jug City Offices in the Moynes Furniture building.

"OUR WORK SPEAKS FOR ITSELF"

Ensuring rights and privileges are not smothered

he was captured, he was held as a prisoner of war in a Russian concentration camp for seven years, just because he was German. You should hear about his experiences with starvation, disease and brutality.

My mother-in-law was only 16 when she was forced to work in a munitions plant that was a constant target for Allied bombers and she had to steal turnips from an unguarded field in order to have something to eat as no other food was available.

The only Canadian Vietnam veteran I know came home so mentally distorted that he would cook his dinner of boiled rice hunched over an open fire in his driveway. He also had the distressing habit of skulking around the bushes in his yard at night with a knife held between his teeth, holding a lance with a bayonet attached, ready to attack "the enemy".

So yes, I know about the scapegoats and the victims.

When I talk about the women's holocaust, I am not referring to the Jewish Holocaust during the Second World War or the Cambodian holocaust after the Vietnam war.

There has been more than one holocaust during the years that humans walked upon the face of this earth.

I am talking about the 5,100,000 to 7,650,000 women in Europe who were slain during the 15th through 17th centuries. It was during this miserable period of human existence that women were blamed for the plagues and the famines. And they paid for the ignorance and fear of others with their own lives because they were branded as "witches".

I do not consider this an insignificant number. Do you?

The men (and women) who do not pay maintenance or child support automatically become "richer". They keep their pay cheques for themselves and their own amusements and "new families". The number of people who refuse to pay for the food and shelter of their own children is staggering. For that reason, the Custody and Support Enforcement Act was passed.

I have never heard of any couple who separate or divorce where one partner doesn't claim emotional or mental abuse. My own husband screams physical and emotional abuse whenever I neglect to keep an extra roll of toilet paper within easy reach for those times when the regular holder is empty.

And of course, only accusations of a criminal nature are investigated. It is rather difficult, (if not impossible) for the authorities to delve into the minds of adults who claim emotional abuse in order to tell if it is true. This form of abuse leaves no visible, physical scars. But it does leave scars on the soul. What may be emotional abuse to one, may not be emotional abuse to another. I will not sit in judgement of such a claim.

As for making false accusations, don't forget the ninth commandment...you know the one that goes, "Thou shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbour". Of course, this applies to spouses as well.

For those who are interested in the self-help, volunteer organization F.A.C.T. (Fathers are Capable Too) (and kids need both parents) which is an organization for non-custodial parents and second spouses, F.A.C.T. can be reached at 905-459-7909 or FAX 905-796-8156. Perhaps they can advise people who would like to form their own group in the Haliburton Highlands.

For those who are interested in women's history, spirituality and self-empowerment, here is a short list of books and films that may prove to be both powerful and enlightening. They should be available at local or high school libraries: The War Against Women by Marilyn French; Outrageous Acts and Everyday Rebellions by Gloria Steinem; Power of the Witch by Laurie Cabot; and Revolution from Within by Gloria Steinem.

The following films are available for rent through the National Film Board of Canada: The Burning Times; Goddess Remembered; Full Circle.

As long as it is necessary that laws be passed legislating such fundamental issues regarding equity and human rights, the people of this country and any other will not meld into one universal unit of harmony and peace.

Each diverse group, be it small or large, will have to network and plan to ensure that it's own rights and privileges will not be smothered by those who are physically stronger or more politically powerful, militarily forceful or financially endowed.

D.M. Horn, Brampton,

A frequent visitor to the Haliburton Highlands.

Exploring the Colombian rainforest

To most Canadians, the name Colombia immediately conjures up images of coffee or drugs. But to biologists, Colombia is home to one of the richest ecosystems on the planet, the Choco tropical rainforest pinched between the Pacific Ocean and the Andes mountain range. It extends from Panama through Colombia to Peru.

Chugging from Bahia Solano to Utria National Park on the Jostiven, a wooden boat, I am accompanied by Francis Halle, a French expert on tropical forests. Halle is famous for having created a huge, pneumatic platform that can be erected on the canopy, where researchers can explore 600 to 800 square metres of tree tops. (Details of this project were included in an article which appeared in the April 1990 edition of the National Geographic magazine.)

Halle points out the thick cloak of trees extending all the way to the water line. "The first thing people do when they invade such a virgin forest" he says, "is to clear the trees along the shore." Despite the difference in vegetation, the tree-covered mountains and pristine bays remind me of British Columbia.

Utria National Park was formed in 1987 and covers 54,300 hectares of spectacular forest. In a heavy rain, I set off alone to walk across the peninsular saddle along a thin path that is a slimy ribbon of red mud. Serpentine tree roots coil along the forest floor to suck nutrients from the thin topsoil and anchor the immense trunks in place. Though impediments on the level ground, the roots provide welcome hand and footholds on the steep hills. Films on tropical rainforests create false expectations of flocks of parrots, bands of monkeys or clouds of butterflies. That's because films can't convey time, which is essential for nature's rhythms and cycles to unfold.

In the forest, temperature and light intensity immediately drop. Thirty metres overhead, the canopy blocks out the sky, preventing the growth of heavy under-brush we think of as jungle. The heavy rainfall is intercepted by the foliage so the water doesn't pound onto the soil. Even though it has rained constantly, the water in the creeks is crystal clear.

The ground is littered with leaves. In Canada, we classify trees as deciduous or evergreens, but here the trees shed leaves year round. Instead of building up to form a thick humus, they quickly become food for insects and fungi and thus are recycled back up into the forest biomass.

It is easy to walk along creek beds or through the trees with little vegetation to hamper movement. The noise is constant, a cacophony of buzzing, clicking and humming of insects and frogs. Walking quietly and slowly, eyes adapting to the shadows and shapes, one begins to notice movement that betrays a frog, a butterfly, a bird. A cosmos of complexity opens up.

Back on the boat, Halle informs me that "jungle" is a word from India referring to the tangle of secondary growth that results after the initial forest is cleared. It is an insult to call a primary forest a jungle, he says. He draws my attention to trees with special properties: the hard white "tagwa" seeds -- six to a cluster within an armoured shell -- that can be carved like ivory; fruit trees; parasitic air-breathing plants; lianes; orchids. But when I bring a leaf or seed, he often admits he has no idea what it is. When I ask how much taxonomists know of the species residing in the tropical rainforests, Halle makes a gesture of futility and replies: "It's an impossible mess." He tells me individuals of one species are usually spaced far apart and each may house different spectra of associated species. A lifetime could be spent studying the organisms in a few square metres while an adjacent section could take another lifetime. That's why our ignorance is so vast.

Halle believes the fabled diversity within a tropical rainforest gives it its stability. When one or two trees are removed, the opening in the canopy allows light to reach the forest floor and stimulates a succession of plants. Over time, like a small nick in the skin, the opening is healed and filled in. But remove a large section of trees and, like a mortal wound, the forest cannot repair itself.

Here a destructive parasite is controlled because its target species is not concentrated in an area the way species are in temperate forests. "There's no need for pesticides," Halle tells me, "because the forest is too diverse to allow an outbreak." Similarly, an introduced exotic species can't explode like rabbits in Australia or purple loosestrife in Canada because there are too many predators to attack it. So biodiversity is not just a descriptive property of the tropical rainforest, it is the very mechanism of its stability for survival.

World demand for lumber and pulp continues to rise while forest plantations cannot deliver wood of quality or quantity. That's why deforestation continues to claim the great forests of the planet and threatens the Choco.

Acid rain report

The following report on acid precipitation was recorded at the Ministry of Environment and Energy site at Dorset.

This report covers the period April 12 to 29:

- April 12: 8.3 mm of rain with a pH of 4.3
- April 13: 1.2 mm of mixed snow and rain with a pH of 4.0
- April 18: 15.0 mm of rain with a pH of 4.4
- April 19: 1.4 mm of rain with a pH of 4.2
- April 21: 34.3 mm of rain with a pH of 4.6
- April 22: 2.3 mm of mixed snow and rain with a pH of 4.4
- April 25: 3.2 mm of rain with a pH of 4.2
- April 26: 1.2 mm of rain with a pH of 4.3
- April 27: 8.6 mm of rain with a pH of 4.0
- April 28: 3.8 mm of rain with a pH of 4.5
- April 29: 3.2 mm of rain with a pH of 4.6

Environmental damage to lakes and streams is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH readings of less than 4.7. pH readings less than 4.0 are considered serious.

Around the County Town

by Jeanne Sears (call 286-1538)

Recent visitor with Bessie Burk was her brother Bob Peacock from Mississauga.

Guests with Audrey and Bob Vick last weekend included Blanche and Clark Miller of Perkinsfield, Dale and Tyler Vick of Vandorf, Bill, Julie and Meighan Woolfrey from Bridgenorth and Chic and Marian Minaker of Stouffville.

Another season starting soon at South Lake Trailer Park, lots of moves, relocations and people moving out. We are sorry to see Jim and Elaine Dunn leave after 24 years to become cottage owners.

Sorry to report that Murray McGuire is under the weather but glad he had very successful surgery. Sincere sympathy to him also from the community on the loss of his wife Ruth (Lou).

David Hicks is getting around to many places and is presently on a working holiday on an island off South America.

Marian and Chic Minaker were happy to be at their home in Lochlin after their move to Stouffville. They called on many of their friends here.

Sincere sympathy to the families and friends of the late Wilfred Kennedy, Alyssa Pockett and Lou McGuire.

All is going well with our Club at The Terrace. We welcomed new resident Betty Campbell who comes to our Monday night euchre games. We have cribbage games on Friday afternoons and bid euchre on Saturday afternoons which will stop May 13 until the Fall. Bingo games take place on Thursday nights and everyone seems to have fun there. Thanks to Victor for getting a small bingo machine. Friday night was our pot luck supper with music afterwards and a good crowd was in attendance. Hopefully, the nice walking weather will continue.

May 1 Monday afternoon winners at St. Paul's included Gladys Wruth, Fern Donnelly, Jessie Preston and Iris Taylor with most lone hands and the draw. Everyone is welcome to join this group on Mondays at 1:30 p.m.

I finally got to the Minden Legion bid euchre games on May 2 and moonshots went to Marg McAfee and Georgina Parkes. Other winners included Bill Menard, Gladys Wruth and Iris Taylor.

Bridge players were at Stanhope on May 2 and winners there included Russ Fair, Wynne Hansen and Earl Hayne. Games begin 1 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Tuesday evening at Lochlin Centre saw the weekly euchre games with winners Bruce O'Brien, Bessie Burke, Lois Peters, Ralph Young and Audrey Vick who had most lone hands. Next games there will be May 16 at 7:30 p.m. with all welcome.

Don't forget Sneaker Day on May 15 starting at 11 a.m. from the gazebo by the bridge. Walk with the crowd as far as you wish at your own pace Club 35 euchre winners for May 1 included Milt Fletcher with most lone hands, Jean Randell and Jack Gregory with the highs and others Olive Jones, Bill Kleinschmidt and Hazel Gregory. Special awards went to May Pearson, Marg Fletcher, Ken Wallace and Bill Kleinschmidt and the 50-50 draw went to Edith Russell. The next Wheels to Meals dinner is May 9 at 12 noon.

A meeting of the Minden Agricultural Society, sponsors of the Haliburton County Fair, will be held at the fairgrounds on May 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Winners at the Branch 636 euchre games on May 4 included Verna McDonald and Al Cooper with most lone hands, Betty Harper and John Mellon with the highs, while others were Pat Rouselle, Bill Kleinschmidt, Lorna Bridgman, Truman McNeil, M. Bibby, Norm Lee, Jean Scadden and Bill Menard.

Minden Women's Institute meeting is May 17 at 2 p.m. in the library/cultural centre with the plant sale, your oldest book and programme. Convenor is Bea Berry and all ladies are welcome.

United Church Women in Kinmount will be holding a hot & cold buffet supper at Kinmount Legion on Saturday, May 20 from 4:30 to 7 p.m.

We should make a point of attending the meeting at the public school on May 24 if we are interested in solving our health and doctor problems. Everyone has to show their needs and the meeting starts at 7 p.m. Be there.

Anglican Parish of Minden and Kinmount have chartered a bus from Minden to the Skydome on Wednesday June 7 leaving at 3 p.m. to attend Mission Ontario with Billy Graham. Inquiries 286-6872 or 489-2223.

A large crowd attended the bid euchre games at Stanhope and moonshots were Ida Young, George Hewitt and other winners included Elsie Henderson, Carol D., Helen Lee, Norm Lee, Ken C., Bob Lewis, Jim Foster and hidden score Betty Harper.

No Farewell

Why did he leave us and just go away?

Dr. Rhodes will be missed for many a day.

Why did he leave without saying good bye?

No wonder we sit and almost cry.

What are we Seniors expected to do? We really are lucky to have Dr. Wu.

That dear doctor is now so busy, I'm sure by night he must feel dizzy.

We need more doctors

And that is no lie

If they don't soon come someone may die.

So let us all pray that things will get better

And this time I hope you will print this short letter.

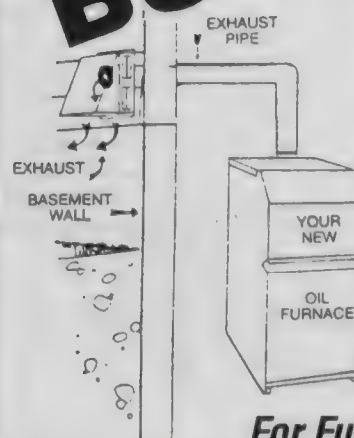

Florence Robinson.

CARDS OF THANKS

The family of the late Stuart Harrison would like to express their sincere gratitude to friends and neighbours for their thoughtful expressions of sympathy. The calls, visits, cards, floral arrangements, gifts of food and memorial donations to the Heart and Stroke Foundation and Minden Hospital Fund were all very much appreciated. Special thanks are extended to the United Church Women, for the lovely lunch and to Gordon Monk and Associates, for their caring professionalism and support during this time of bereavement. Hilda Harrison and Family.

CARDS OF THANKS

Heartfelt thanks to our families and friends who helped ease our sadness in the loss of our "Most Special Beloved Daughter, Joanie." Your many acts of kindness, both in the past and now will never be forgotten, as we know Joanie was very special to you too. Joanie's last few years were not easy for her, but with the love and kindness of her many friends and family; also her supervisors, councillors and staff from M.S. Cottage and McGhie Apartments, the doctors, nurses and staff from the Special Care Unit, you helped us all through somehow. So many of you went beyond the call of duty that to name and thank you all personally would be impossible. From the bottom of our hearts "thank you" and to one lady in particular, Lynda Porteous, Joanie's supervisor from McGhie Apartments, you were and are an angel. Your love, kindness and support we will cherish and remember forever.

To her very special pallbearers, Lynda, Sharon, Donna, Jo-Ann and Patricia from McGhie Apartments, Joanie's loving brother Myles and brother-in-law Mark, your show of love we'll never forget.

Rev. David Lowe: God Bless and many thanks for the beautiful services, both here in Minden and the Memorial Service at Huronia Regional Centre and also to Heather for her most touching eulogy (that was Joanie.)

To the Gord Monk Funeral Home, you made the task of losing our loved one more bearable. You truly are a remarkable family. Also to Pat Campbell and all her "family"; Dawn Brohman, you were always just a phone call away and last, but not least, Sharon Damery (Joanie's councillor), your kindness and love will always be remembered.

"Thank you and Bless you all!"
Betty and Bernard Trumbull & Family.

In appreciation for the many tributes and kind wishes extended to myself and family after my wife Mabel's recent passing. We are very thankful that she was able to enjoy a full and happy life right up to her final hours.

"Those we hold most dear
Never truly leave us
They live on
In the kindnesses they showed,
The comfort they shared,
And the love they brought Into our lives."

Sinclair Russell, Carnarvon.

TO GIL PARCELL

Thanks for putting up with me. I learned lots and had fun. You have great talents and I sure wish I could draw like you. I'll keep practising. Thanks again, I will be back again.
Rich Kinsman.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to thank everyone who contributed to and attended my farewell party. Special thanks to Shirley and Jim Kirk, Dorothy Ashe and their helpers, the members of CUPE Local 1960, the rest of the staff at County Roads, Bill Obee and the H.C.R.S.A., my family and all my friends and associates for making this a wonderful and unforgettable evening. Thanks for the memories, Larry.

AT REST

HARRISON, Stuart Hillier

Peacefully at the Hyland Crest Senior Citizens' Home, Minden, Ontario on Monday, April 24, 1995, in his 88th year.

Beloved husband of Hilda. Dear father of Larry, Sylvia and Susan all of Toronto. Loving grandfather of Paul, Colleen, John, Aaron and Kerry.

Mr. Harrison rested at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, 127 Main Street, Minden on Wednesday. Funeral Service was held at the Funeral Home on Thursday, April 27 at 11 a.m. Interment Minden Cemetery. Memorial donations to the Heart and Stroke Foundation would be appreciated by the family.

McGUIRE,

Margaret Ruth (Lou)

Peacefully at the Ross Memorial Hospital, Lindsay, Ontario on Wednesday, May 3, 1995, in her 73rd year.

Beloved wife of Murray of Halls Lake, loving mother of Marilyn Gordon of Burlington and grandmother of Lindsey Anderson of Burlington. Predeceased by her parents Lila and Ruben Wilson of Kirkfield.

At the family's request, a Memorial Service was held in the Chapel at the Gordon A. Monk Funeral Home, 127 Main Street, Minden on Saturday, May 6, 1995 at 10:30 a.m. Cremation. A reception will be held at the Funeral Home following the Service.

Memorial donations to the charity of your choice would be appreciated by the family.

IN MEMORIAM

PHILLIPS, Blanche Nesbitt - In loving memory of a sweet and precious Mom who went home to be with the Lord October 16, 1993.

There is a corner in our hearts We keep it just for you. As long as life and memories last,

We will love and remember you. Always in our thoughts, David, Donnie, Dougie, Glenn, Dolly, Rosie and the grandchildren.

BAKER, Wesley F. - In loving memory of a dear husband and father who passed away May 5, 1994.

God looked around His garden And found an empty space, He then looked down upon the earth

And saw your tired face. He put His arms around you And lifted you to rest, God's garden must be beautiful For He only takes the best. He saw the road was getting rough And the hills were hard to climb So He closed your weary eyes And whispered "Peace be Thine."

It broke our hearts to lose you But you do not go alone, For part of us went with you When Jesus called you Home. Sadly missed by wife Ethel and family.

HARRISON, Bernice - May 10, 1992

HARRISON, John - August 10, 1992.

Their life earnest, Their actions kind, Willing hands, active minds, Anxious to please, Loath to offend, Loving people And faithful friends.
Jim and Jean Fairfield.

Annie under the influence

Small children learn important life lessons from you. What you do shapes what they'll do. Make smart choices to help them do the same. Here are some tips.

- Tip 1. Limit the days you drink each week to three or four.
- Tip 2. Before you reach for a drink out of boredom or stress, ask yourself if this is what you want your children to do? If not, make the healthier choice.
